

The Ontario Orff Chapter presents the workshop....

"All that Moveth Doth in Change Delight": Orff Processes for Real Classrooms

featuring
Catherine West & Kim Kendrick

Claude Watson School for the Arts
130 Doris Avenue, Toronto, ON, M2N 0A8
Sunday, February 12, 2012
10am - 2pm

Workshop Description

Participants will be led through activities that extend and transform simple materials into delightful creations using the Orff media of movement, speech, song and instruments (including the recorder for junior grades). As students manipulate materials, they solve musical problems, and develop deep understandings. If you play recorder, please bring one along!

About the Workshop Leaders:

Catherine West, who currently teaches K-8 music at Swansea P.S., is also the director of Orff teacher training at the Royal Conservatory of Music in Toronto, the coordinator of music AQ courses at OISE-UT, the editor of the National Canadian Orff Journal, Ostinato, and a senior associate with Connexionarts (an arts-in-education consulting company). She is in demand nationally and internationally as an Orff teacher trainer, workshop clinician, and author. Her most recent book, When I First Came to this Land, is published by Mayfair Books.

Kim Kendrick has been teaching people of all ages both in the classroom and privately for over 30 years. Currently, she teaches in the Children's Programmes and Teacher Training departments of the Royal Conservatory of Music in Toronto, while working as an Orff and Vocal itinerant teacher with the Toronto District School Board. She has specialist certification in both Orff and Kodaly, and is in demand as a workshop presenter. Kim is the founder and director of the St. Mary Magdalene Orff Ensemble.
